

2009 Ladies Retreat

"That Your Joy May Be Full"

October 15-17, 2009

The speaker, Betty Brock, grew up in Tennessee and graduated from Bob Jones University where she met her husband, Walt Brock. After graduation they moved to southern California to teach in a Christian school. During that time while teaching and working with the youth, God burdened Walt for the need of a fundamental camp. In 1973 they moved with their three children onto a desert property with one block building and a barbed wired fence to start Ironwood, a Christian camp in the high desert of California. Betty's responsibilities have varied through the years, but she currently works as her husband's administrative assistant and travels to speak for women's groups and teaches at family camps and conferences with her husband.
